

"Today customers are more focused on buying genuine original equipment, buying good quality and buying new because they have fewer problems. People know that they get what they pay for and are prepared a little more for the peace of mind."

Henrik Hammer